Accident Management

Accidents are costly – vehicle and employee downtime can have a significant impact on productivity, before you even consider the associated repair costs. Automotive Leasing's Accident Management service can minimise the cost to your business and make it easier to manage the risks associated with fleet operation.

Automotive Leasing's effective control of the entire claims and repair process means you can avoid the administrative and management burden that accidents cause.

Through ongoing analysis of your organisation's incident statistics and development of risk programmes, you can further benefit from a fall in accident rates and even insurance premiums.

With our comprehensive reporting systems and consultation, you'll get valuable analysis to help minimise risk and develop strategies you can rely on both now and in the future.
